

Subject: Trends & Case Studies in Outdoor Dining

Register Now for rd+d's Outdoor Dining Webcast

Tuesday, June 4, 1:00 PM (Central)

So many people specifically search for outdoor dining spots that popular services like Yelp offer outdoor seating as a search option. Once thought of as popular in cities like Honolulu or Miami, northern U.S. cities are jumping on the year-round outdoor trend by utilizing heat lamps and retractable roofs and windows. In this hour-long webcast, we look at the popular trends, innovations and enhancements designers have made to a restaurant space's alfresco dining area.

FCSI members and certified foodservice professionals may earn a continuing education unit by viewing the webcast and then completing a short quiz.

Rebecca Kilbreath
Moderator
Editor in Chief
rd+d Magazine

Dawn Arcieri, NCIDQ, RID
Panelist
Senior Associate
Gensler

Tom Henken
Panelist
Vice President + Director of Design
apl(+)

Michael Poris, AIA
Panelist
Principal
McIntosh Poris Associates

Learn more about our panelists

FCSI members and certified foodservice professionals may earn a continuing education unit by viewing the webcast and then completing a short quiz.

Can't make the live version? Register now and we'll send a link to watch on demand.

Register Here

Sponsored by:

Want more content from rd+d? View our webcast archives.

- Open Kitchens Webcast
Recorded March 28, 2019
- Designing for a Decreasing Footprint
Recorded October 23, 2018
- Bar Design
Recorded April 24, 2018

Outdoor Dining

Presented by:
restaurant
development+design

Sponsored by:
emu

Speaker Bio

Speaker Bios

Rebecca Kilbreath
Dawn Arcieri, NCIDQ, RID
Tom Henken
Michael Poris, AIA

Michael Poris, AIA
Principal
McIntosh Poris
Associates

Q&A

Submit

Media Player

00:09/62:15

Slides

Trends & Case Studies in Outdoor Dining

restaurant
development+design

Tuesday, June 4, 2019
Moderated by Rebecca Kilbreath,
Editor in Chief, rd+d magazine

